The mission of the Regional Food Bank is to alleviate hunger and prevent food waste.
We work toward this mission by ensuring that all products available for donation reach the Food Bank and are distributed judiciously to our member agencies.

Dear Friends,

When the need is greatest, people always seem to respond with the greatest generosity.

That was the story of the Regional Food Bank in 2008. We experienced unprecedented challenges, with record high fuel and energy prices straining our financial resources in the first half of the year, and the collapse of the economy forcing record numbers of people to seek emergency food assistance in the second half. We knew we needed to expand our services dramatically, and that it wouldn't be easy. But we had faith people would once again find new, creative, and generous ways to support us so others would not go hungry.

Even we underestimated the response. Food drives sprung up all over the place. Businesses and individuals increased their annual gifts and many new donors sent in contributions despite the fact they had less to give themselves. Volunteers called constantly to lend their services. It was all needed and will continue to be needed during this extended period of economic strife.

We thank everyone who responded so generously in this time of crisis. We provided 19.6 million pounds of food to help our hungry neighbors in 2008, and we are committed to do even more in 2009.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Mark Quandt".

Mark Quandt
Executive Director

Dear Friends,

Extraordinary times call for extraordinary measures! So many people, businesses and organizations have stepped up to assist the Food Bank during this difficult economic period in our nation's history.

We are grateful for the flood of new donors who want to help their neighbors in need. We are heartened by new ideas which have become successful first time promotions: Chris and Kevin Schneider of Mother Earth's Storehouse created a valued customer card earning $25,000 for the Food Bank this year. Long-time friends like Assemblywoman Nancy Calhoun continue to support the Food Bank's mission. Many groups and businesses assist our member agencies with "Adopt a Program" funding: Partners in Caring from ShopRite, Markertek, the Royal Order of Hibernians, United Way of Dutchess County, and the Dutchess County Community Foundation help emergency feeding programs in several counties.

Young people from area schools are pitching in. The Dyson Foundation offered seminars about fundraising in a recession and gives financial support.

Let us look forward to better days, knowing that the generous spirit of good friends and neighbors will sustain us, as it always has.

Sincerely,

Jan Whitman
Director
Food Bank of the Hudson Valley

Regional Food Bank

The Regional Food Bank of Northeastern New York is a private, not-for-profit organization that has been helping to feed the poor and hungry in our communities since 1982. It is the only organization of its kind in all of northeastern New York. The Food Bank collects large donations of food from the food industry for distribution to charitable agencies feeding the needy in a 23 county region of northeastern New York.

The Food Bank works in partnership with all segments of the food industry. Manufacturers, retailers, wholesalers, growers, and brokers donate food that may be mislabeled, overproduced, short weighted, or close to expiration. These circumstances make the food unmarketable but do not affect quality. This food is stored at the Food Bank's 62,000 square-foot warehouse in Latham, and then distributed to food pantries, soup kitchens, emergency shelters and other charitable agencies. The Food Bank helps these agencies increase the number of people they serve and expand the quantity and variety of food they provide to people in need.

In 1990, the Regional Food Bank opened a branch facility in the lower Hudson Valley to increase donations from food companies and improve services to agencies in this region. This branch, called Food Bank of the Hudson Valley, is housed in a 55,000 square-foot warehouse in Cornwall-on-Hudson in Orange County. The combined service area of the Regional Food Bank and Food Bank of the Hudson Valley encompasses 41% of the landmass of New York State.

In 2008, the Food Bank provided nearly 20 million pounds of food to 1,000 member agencies in its service area, and actively worked to increase awareness of hunger and poverty. The Food Bank is a responsible steward of its resources, providing $10 - $12 worth of food per every dollar it spends.

The Need

2008 was a difficult year for our agencies and their clients. The need for emergency food assistance has risen anywhere from 10-50%, depending on the agency, and many people were forced to seek help for the first time in their lives.

Despite the economic stress that was felt by nearly everyone, our generous community helped out in a big way. Food and monetary donations continued to flow in, and many people who could not help out financially donated their time and services to assist us in the office or sort food in the warehouse.

The Regional Food Bank of Northeastern New York and Food Bank of the Hudson Valley are grateful for the time, energy, and resources our generous community provided in 2008 to ensure that we were able to help as many people as possible during a time when it was needed most.

Nearly 2 million individuals were served by our member Food Pantries, Soup Kitchens, and Shelters in 2008.

Hunger is a more serious problem in our community than many people realize. With almost 20% of New York State families living in or near poverty, it is easy to understand how so many people are just one step away from hunger.

Addressing The Need

Food Donations

Over 250 food industry businesses donated food and non-food grocery items, and hundreds of individuals generously contributed through food drives and other efforts to make it possible for the Food Bank to serve its member agencies. Donations were received from food companies throughout our 23 county service area and from national companies through our relationship with Feeding America (formerly America's Second Harvest).

Many of the Food Bank's donations come in bulk or are cosmetically damaged. Volunteers and staff work in the warehouse to make these donations usable for our member agencies. The Repack Program involves repackaging bulk items into smaller packaging. The Salvage Program uses trained staff and volunteers to sort cosmetically damaged product and re-box it for distribution to member agencies. The Moveable Feast Program focuses on acquiring donations of prepared and perishable food from local grocers and food service operations, which makes it possible to provide more fresh, nutritious food to our member agencies.

Coop Program

The Food Bank purchases items in bulk that are not typically donated and resells them to member agencies at discounted prices. This program allows the Food Bank to offer a more comprehensive inventory of products that provides greater convenience and tremendous cost savings for its member agencies.

The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP)

The Food Bank contracts with the New York State Office of General Services to administer the distribution of commodities provided by The Emergency Food Assistance Program of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) for emergency feeding programs.

The Patroon Land Farm

The Food Bank completed its third year of operating the Patroon Land Farm in 2008. The Farm provided over 86,600 pounds of produce for the Regional Food Bank's member agencies, all through the efforts of four employees and 463 volunteers.

Many infrastructure improvements and equipment upgrades were made at the Farm in 2008. Drainage tiles were laid in two fields to eliminate flooding from heavy rains, farm roads were improved, a well was drilled, power was installed, and an office for the Farm Manager was built in a renovated camping trailer. On the equipment side, a new tractor was purchased, a pick-up truck was donated, and many other items were acquired to improve the Farm's growing capacity.

One of the most exciting new initiatives at the Farm in 2008 was the creation of a Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) program. A CSA is a partnership between families and farms where members make a commitment to support the farm by buying a "share" in the season's harvest, while sharing the farm's risk due to nature's uncertainties. In return, they receive a weekly supply of fresh, locally-grown produce during the harvest season.

The Patroon Land Farm CSA is unique in that the money paid by members for their shares is used to support the Farm's primary purpose of growing food for the hungry. Thus, members not only receive beautiful fresh produce throughout the growing season, they have the satisfaction of knowing they are helping hungry people at the same time. The CSA provides financial stability for the Patroon Land Farm and allows it to expand to grow even more fruits and vegetables for people in need.

In the CSA's first year, shareholders received a large variety of produce from early July through October that included broccoli, cucumbers, summer squash, cauliflower, melons, tomatoes, peppers, cabbage, potatoes, beets, greens, and much more. Members were thrilled with the quantity, quality, and variety of the produce they received and pleased to be part of the Farm's mission.

Helping Agencies Help The Hungry

The Regional Food Bank's member agencies experienced unprecedented demand in 2008. To help agencies meet the need, the Food Bank expanded its outreach and training to ensure agencies are maximizing their use of the Food Bank's food supplies and taking advantage of other community resources.

Regional Coalitions

Due to the regional nature of the issues our agencies face, we began to develop Regional Coalitions in 2008. By networking with fellow emergency food providers in their region, agency representatives benefit from collaboration, learn from others facing similar challenges, and overcome obstacles. Coalition meetings also provide an opportunity for our member agencies to meet representatives from organizations eager to provide information on topics such as Food Stamps and free or low-cost health insurance.

Programs

Summer Food Service Program

The Food Bank became a sponsor of the Summer Food Service Program for the first time in 2008. As a sponsor of this Federal program, the Food Bank partnered with community agencies to provide nutritious breakfasts and lunches to low-income school aged children throughout the summer, when school breakfasts and lunches are not available (SFSP is an equal opportunity provider and employer).

BackPack Program

The mission of the BackPack Program is to help alleviate child hunger in America by providing hungry children with nutritious and easy-to-prepare food at times when other resources are not available, such as weekends. The program provides bags filled with food that is child-friendly, shelf-stable, and easily-consumed. The Food Bank is currently partnering with Ark Community Charter School in Troy and Schoharie Elementary School to provide weekly bags to children in need.

Kids Cafe

In 2003, the Food Bank launched its Kids Cafes, which are soup kitchens for children. In addition to providing healthy meals in a safe atmosphere, Kids Cafes provide athletic activities, homework assistance, and nutrition education to disadvantaged youth.

Extra Helpings

Extra Helpings is a cooperative food-buying program offered by the Regional Food Bank. It is designed to increase the food buying power of low-income people and decrease their reliance on emergency feeding programs by offering them the opportunity to purchase low-cost, nutritious bags of groceries each month through a network of over 90 host sites throughout the Food Bank's service area.

Workshops

The Food Bank expanded its commitment to its member agencies in 2008 by providing a wider variety of workshops on a monthly basis. Workshops offered at the Food Bank included:

- Client Choice for Food Pantries
- Food Bank Orientation
- Food Safety
- Fundraising 101
- Menu Planning
- Outreach Opportunities
- Salvage Spectacular
- What's in a Bag?

Community Initiatives

Food Drives

In 2008, more than 300 groups and individuals collected food for the Regional Food Bank. These creative, resourceful people donated more than 65,000 pounds of food for hunger relief. We gratefully acknowledge all our Food Drive partners and give special recognition to those who collected 500 pounds and above.

Appeals Conducted at Both Food Banks

Holiday Hunger Appeal

The holidays brought out the best in people throughout northeastern New York as thousands donated to the 24th Annual Holiday Hunger Appeal. Shoppers made contributions at the Food Bank's Holiday Hunger Appeal booth in Crossgates Mall from November 19 to December 24, and more than 30 companies matched each day of Mall collections. Other individuals and groups participated in special events such as the Ornament Pin-Up Program and Dress Down Days. Still others sent generous contributions through the mail to support the holiday effort. In total, the Holiday Hunger Appeal raised over $423,000 to benefit the Food Bank.

Check Out Hunger

Throughout the fall and winter months of 2008, Price Chopper, ShopRite, A & P, Adams Fairacre Farms, Pathmark and Foodtown helped the Food Bank "Check Out Hunger" by allowing shoppers to add $1, $3, or $5 donations to their grocery bills. Check Out Hunger raised over $88,000 to benefit the Food Bank.

Yom Kippur Hunger Appeal

The Jewish community has been a loyal partner with the Regional Food Bank in the fight against hunger through the Yom Kippur Hunger Appeal for 24 years. Members of the Jewish community generously donate the cost of meals not eaten during the High Holy Day of Yom Kippur as a way to share with their hungry neighbors. In 2008, nearly $32,000 was donated through this appeal.

Time and Talent Donors

Volunteers play a vital role in the Food Bank's work and allow us to accomplish more than we ever could on our own. In 2008, more than 2,000 people donated over 36,000 hours of service to the Food Bank—the equivalent of 18 full-time employees. We appreciate the gifts each person brings and recognize those individuals and groups that come back time and time again. We are stronger for their many contributions.
