The mission of the Regional Food Bank is to alleviate hunger and prevent food waste.
We work toward this mission by ensuring that all products available for donation reach the Food Bank and are distributed judiciously to our member agencies.

Dear Friends,

My thoughts about the Regional Food Bank's work in 2011 are dominated by one thing – the flooding caused by Hurricane Irene. Never in my lifetime has such a devastating disaster struck this area. At the Food Bank, we were challenged as never before to find a way to respond to the crisis while maintaining our regular services to agencies dealing with the daily tragedy of hunger.

Fortunately, we were able to assist in a very positive, meaningful manner because, as always, our friends and supporters offered their help in a big way. We provided several hundred thousand pounds of food, water, cleaning supplies, paper goods, personal hygiene products, dishes, furniture, and more to thousands of people devastated by the flooding, and we continue to provide those services in 2012.

The outpouring of support enabled us to do this work and still meet the needs of our 1,000 other member agencies, who themselves have depended on us more than ever since the onset of the recession in 2008. In total, we distributed over 25.6 million pounds of food and other products in 2011, our highest total ever and 31% more than just three years ago.

I thank all of our food donors, financial supporters, and volunteers for making it possible for the Food Bank to meet the needs of so many people in our community, especially in such a challenging year as 2011. You are truly a blessing.

Sincerely,

Mark Quandt
Executive Director

Dear Friends,

Last year brought many challenges and afforded many opportunities for the Food Bank of the Hudson Valley. While economic conditions for many of our neighbors were still very difficult, the Food Bank was able to increase the amount of resources it made available to our member agencies. As Hurricane Irene's aftereffects brought a power outage resulting in the loss of perishable food in our cooler, donors were immediately on the phone asking how they could help.

It is one of the many blessings of living and working in the Hudson Valley: when there is need, there is a thoughtful response from the community to help care for one another. Despite ongoing financial struggles, 2011 brought so many more people to support the Food Bank's goals and mission. Those who had resources to share selected the Food Bank of the Hudson Valley to help their hungry neighbors.

As always, we appreciate your confidence in the Food Bank's ability to make good use of your generosity, time, and talents. We look forward to working in partnership with all of you in the years to come!

Sincerely,

Jan Whitman
Director
Food Bank of the Hudson Valley

poundage and programs

The Regional Food bank provided 25.6 million pounds of food to its member agencies and the hungry people they serve in 2011, a 44% increase since 2007. Approximately 250,000 people benefited from the assistance the Food Bank provided.

The need has increased dramatically during these difficult economic times, and the Food Bank has been asked to do much more. Fortunately, our generous community has responded in a big way. Food and monetary donations were strong in 2011, and more people than ever donated their time and services to assist us with sorting and repacking food in the warehouse, volunteering at the Farm or in the office, and serving on fundraising committees. We could not have met the increased need without the tremendous help we received from the community.

Over 250 food industry businesses donated food and non-food grocery items, and hundreds of individuals generously contributed through food drives and other efforts to make it possible for the Food Bank to serve its member agencies. Donations are received from food companies throughout our 23-county service area and from national companies through our relationship with Feeding America, the national network of food banks. The Regional Food Bank accepts products that are surplus, off-size or color, discontinued, close-to-code/best-used by date, shipped in error...unmarketable for whatever reason, but still good to use. For donations that come in bulk or are cosmetically damaged, volunteers and staff work to make these donations usable for our member agencies by sorting and repacking.

The Food Bank completed its sixth year of operating the Patroon Land Farm in 2011. To date, over 474,000 pounds of produce have been grown and distributed through the Food Bank to people in need. Our Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) program expanded to 353 members, providing the Farm with more financial stability and an opportunity to expand its acreage to grow more vegetables to feed the hungry.

agency services and programs

summer food service program

As a sponsor of this federal program, the Food Bank partners with community agencies to provide nutritious breakfasts and lunches to low-income school-aged children throughout the summer, when school breakfasts and lunches are not available. The Food Bank sponsors sites in Albany, Montgomery, and Fulton Counties. (SFSP is an equal opportunity provider and employer.) In 2011, the Food Bank provided 13,740 meals (4,798 breakfasts and 8,942 lunches) to children in need, an increase of 2,372 meals from 2010.

backpack program

The Backpack Program helps alleviate child hunger by providing at-risk children with nutritious and easy-to-prepare food on weekends, when other resources may not be available. The Food Bank provides backpacks filled with child-friendly and easy-to-prepare food each Friday during the school year. In 2011, the program expanded from 12 to 20 schools.

mass distribution program

The Food Bank's Mass Distributions – also called Mobile Pantries – supply people in low-income neighborhoods with surplus food on a monthly basis. Mass Distributions give people food over and above what they may receive at a food pantry, helping them stretch their limited dollars and giving their nutrition a boost through the provision of food like yogurt, juice, and fresh produce. A total of 3,450,421 pounds were distributed at Mass Distribution sites in 2011.

patroon land farm

The Regional Food Bank, in partnership with the Patroon Land Foundation, manages a 15-acre Farm for the purpose of growing vegetables for distribution to the Food Bank's member agencies and the hungry people they serve. In 2011, 143,306 pounds were harvested. Since the Food Bank took over operations of the Farm in 2006, it has produced more than 474,000 pounds of fresh food for those in need.

kids cafe

Kids Cafes are soup kitchens for children. In addition to providing healthy meals in a safe atmosphere, Kids Cafes provide athletic activities, homework assistance, and nutrition education to disadvantaged youth. The Food Bank currently operates a Kids Cafe at the Schenectady Boys & Girls Club's Mont Pleasant site.

one-on-one support

Our Agency Relations staff works hard to address the changing needs of our member agencies and offer them the support they need. Food Bank staff members analyze agency ordering patterns to ensure agencies optimize their use of the Food Bank. In addition, they educate member agency staff so they can provide resources beyond emergency food, such as information on Food Stamps, affordable health care, and nutrition.

workshops

The Food Bank provides agencies a wide variety of workshops on a monthly basis, such as:

- Agency Best Practices
- Accommodating Special Diets
- Client Choice for Food Pantries
- Disaster Preparedness
- Food Bank Orientation
- Food Safety
- Fundraising 101
- Menu Planning
- Outreach Opportunities
- Pantry Tours
- What's in a Bag?
- And More!

time and talent donors

Volunteers play a vital role in the Food Bank's work and allow us to accomplish more than we ever could on our own. We appreciate the gifts each person brings and recognize those individuals and groups that come back time and time again. We are stronger for their many contributions.

thank you

The staff of the Regional Food Bank and Food Bank of the Hudson Valley would like to extend a special thank you to all who helped us in 2011 with food donations, fundraising, volunteer efforts, and in a multitude of other ways. We are grateful for the time, energy, and resources our generous community provided in 2011 to ensure we were able to help as many people as possible during a time when it was so desperately needed.

how you can help

donate time and talent

Volunteers are vital to the Food Bank's operation and contribute in countless ways. Sorting food, picking produce at our farm, or raising money at a fundraising event—there are endless varieties of enjoyable, rewarding tasks that volunteers perform every day.

make a monetary or in-kind donation

Financial donations sustain the Food Bank and enrich the larger community by providing nourishment, dignity, and a sense of sharing to all involved. Funds come from grants, special events, and contributions, and each donation makes a meaningful difference. In-Kind donations come in many forms, from printing to paving and more; these donations allow the Food Bank to get more food to hungry people.

donate food

Food donations are at the core of the Food Bank's work. Food companies donate their edible but unsaleable food, and individuals and organizations conduct food drives at all times of the year. Non-food items like paper goods and cleaning supplies are also donated. These products are provided to food pantries, soup kitchens, and other agencies serving people in need.

spread the word

Did you have a great time volunteering in our warehouse or on the Farm? Spread the word! Let your friends know, and encourage them to volunteer! Find us on Facebook to keep up with what's going on at the Food Bank, and share our page with your friends. With your help, we are alleviating hunger...together.
